NON-GMO SHOPPING GUIDE
How to avoid foods made with genetically modified organisms (GMOs)

As recommended by O, the Oprah magazine, Dr. Oz, CBS News, and Fox News
To be listed in a category, brands must have at least one product verified by the Non-GMO Project. This does not mean that all of their products are verified. To find out which products have qualified, visit NonGMOShoppingGuide.com or download the iPhone app ShopNoGMO.
Introduction & Overview

What is a GMO?
Genetically modified organisms (GMOs) are made by forcing genes from one species, such as bacteria, viruses, animals, or humans, into the DNA of a food crop or animal in order to introduce a new trait.

Why Should I Avoid GMOs?
The American Academy of Environmental Medicine reported, “Several animal studies indicate serious health risks associated with GM food,” including infertility, immune problems, accelerated aging, faulty insulin regulation, and changes in major organs and the gastrointestinal system. They urge physicians to prescribe healthier non-GMO foods to everyone.

Tips to Avoid GMOs

Tip #1: Buy Organic
Certified organic products cannot intentionally include any GMO ingredients. Buy products labeled “100% organic,” “organic,” or “made with organic ingredients.” You can be doubly sure if the product also has a Non-GMO Project Verified Seal.

Tip #2: Look for Non-GMO Project Seals
This guide features brands with products verified by the Non-GMO Project, a non-profit organization committed to providing consumers with clearly labeled and independently verified non-GMO choices, including testing of at-risk ingredients. The Non-GMO Project verifies per individual product, not for an entire brand. Some of the brands listed in this guide offer both GMO and Non-GMO items. Visit NonGMOProject.org for more information on the third-party product verification program.

Tip #3: Avoid At-Risk Ingredients
If it’s not labeled organic or verified non-GMO, avoid products made with ingredients that might be derived from GMOs. The eight GM food crops are corn, soybeans, canola, cottonseed, sugar beets, papaya from China, or Hawaii (most) and a small amount of zucchini and yellow squash. GM alfalfa is also fed to livestock.

For more details, including non-GMO verified products, visit NonGMOShoppingGuide.com
Sugar: If a non-organic product made in North America lists “sugar” as an ingredient (and NOT pure cane sugar), then it is almost certainly a combination of sugar from both sugar cane and GM sugar beets.

Dairy products may be from cows injected with GM bovine growth hormone. If it’s not labeled Organic, or Non-GMO Project Verified, look for labels stating No rbGH, rbST, or artificial hormones.

Tip #4: Use the Non-GMO Shopping Guide
Visit NonGMOShoppingGuide.com to see a complete list of Non-GMO products available from each brand in this guide or use the ShopNoGMO App on your iPhone—available for free at the iTunes store.

Alternative Dairy Products
Are you vegan, lactose intolerant or have allergies to dairy? You’re probably already familiar with dairy alternatives, such as soy milk, almond milk, rice milk, and other substitute products. Since so many alternative dairy products are made from soybeans, be aware that they may contain GM materials. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365
- Almond Dream
- Amande
- Blue Diamond
- Coconut Secret
- Dream Blends

Baby Foods & Infant Formula

Milk or soy protein is the basis of most infant formulas. The secret ingredients in these products are often soy, or milk from cows injected with rbGH. Many brands also add GMO-derived corn syrup, corn syrup solids, or soy lecithin. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- Earth’s Best
- Happy Baby Retort Pouches
- HAPPYBABY Pouches
- HAPPYTOT
- Little Duck Organics
- NurturMe
- Oh Baby Foods
- Organic Baby
- Plum Organics
- Revolution Foods

Beverages

Most juices are made from non-GMO fruit (be cautious of papaya though, as it could be the Hawaiian GMO variety), but the prevalence of corn-based sweeteners—e.g. high-fructose corn syrup (HFCS)—in fruit juices is cause for concern. Many sodas are primarily comprised of water and corn syrup. Look for 100% juice blends. Some brands are now moving away from HFCS to sugar, but unless it is pure cane sugar, it will include sugar from GM sugar beets. The sweetener Aspartame is derived from GM microorganisms. It is referred to as NutraSweet and Equal and is found in over 6,000 products, including diet drinks and diet sodas. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365
- Blue Diamond

Body Care

The GM ingredients found in body care products are largely soy and corn derivatives. Some or all of the products produced by the brand featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project.

- Desert Essence
- Dr. Arenander’s BrainGain Formulas
- Dr. Bronner’s Magic
- EO
- HimalaRose
- Nature Way
- Sunfood Superfoods

Breads & Baked Goods

While baking ingredients such as wheat flour, rice, kamut, and oats are not genetically modified, many packaged breads and bakery items contain other GMO ingredients such as corn syrup, soy flour, and sugar from sugar beets. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365

Candy, Chocolate & Sweeteners

Many sweeteners, and products like candy and chocolate that contain them, can come from GMO sources. Look for organic and non-GMO sweeteners, products made with 100% cane sugar (to avoid GM beet sugar), evaporated cane juice or organic sugar. And watch out for soy lecithin in chocolates and corn syrup in candies. The sweetener, Aspartame, is derived from GM microorganisms. It is also referred to as NutraSweet or Equal and is found in over 6,000 products, including soft drinks, gum, candy, desserts, yogurt, tabletop sweeteners, some vitamins and sugar-free cough drops. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Condiments, Oils, Dressings & Spreads

Unless labeled explicitly, corn, soybean, cottonseed, and canola oils produced in North America almost certainly contain genetically modified products. Choose other oils, such as pure olive, coconut, sesame, sunflower, safflower, almond, grapeseed, and peanut oils. Also choose preserves, jams, and jellies with cane sugar, not unspecified “sugar” (which will likely contain GM beet sugar) or corn syrup. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Dairy Products

Some U.S. dairy farms inject the genetically engineered recombinant bovine growth hormone, rbGH (also called rbST), into their cows to boost milk production. There are now many dairy products with labels that indicate they do not use rbGH or rbST. Their cows may still be fed GM feed. Organic dairy products are not allowed to intentionally use rbGH or GM grains as animal feed. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project (the Non-GMO Project Standard does not allow the use of rbGH and sets rigorous testing thresholds for GMO presence in animal feed). To view a list of brands that do not use rbGH but are not yet enrolled in the Non-GMO Project, please visit nongmoshoppingguide.com/rbgh.

Feed & Seed

If you’re raising poultry or livestock and want to avoid GM feed in your animals’ diet, look for organic and Non-GMO Project verified products. Talk to your veterinarian for detailed information on providing a balanced diet for your livestock. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- Arrowhead Mills
- High Mowing Organic Seeds Company
- Mighty Mustard
- Modesto Milling
- Multiple Organics
- Rivara
- Scratch and Peck
- Sunfood Superfoods
Fruits & Vegetables (canned & frozen)

Very few fresh fruits and vegetables for sale are genetically modified. Novel products such as seedless watermelons are not genetically modified. Small amounts of zucchini, yellow crookneck squash, and sweet corn may be GM. The only commercialized GM fruit is papaya from China and Hawaii—about half of Hawaii’s papayas are GM. Even if the fruit or vegetable is non-GMO, if it is packaged, frozen, or canned, there may be GM additives. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Meat, Fish & Eggs

No genetically modified fish, fowl, or livestock is yet approved for human consumption. However, plenty of foods are produced from animals raised on GM feed such as grains. To avoid products from animals fed GMOs, look for organic products, wild caught (such as wild fish or game), and 100% grass-fed animals. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365
- Fairfield Specialty Eggs
- Field Day
- Ian’s
- Keller Crafted Meats
- Mindful Meats
- Natural Sea
- Pure Country Pork Inc.
- Tonnino

Mercantile

The Mercantile category is in its beginning stages but will feature an expanding list of brands offering organic and Non-GMO Project verified dry-goods, packaging alternatives, and other merchandise. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- BioBag
- CleanVia
- Desert Essence
- If You Care
- VerTerra Dinnerware
- World Centric

Packaged/Frozen Meals

Many frozen and packaged meals are highly processed. Keep an eye out for derivatives of GM soy and corn, oil from canola & cottonseed, and sugar from GM sugar beets. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- A Moveable Feast
- Bold Organics
- Earth’s Best
- Field Day
- Fry Group Foods
- Helen’s Kitchen
- Hilary’s Eat Well

- Nummy Tum Tum
- Scratch and Peck

Snack Food & Bars
Look for snacks made from wheat, rice, or oats, and ones that use non-GM oils. There is no GM popcorn on the market, nor is there blue or red GM corn (although blue and red corn chips may have GM contamination). Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:
