YUM! Brands owns KFC, Pizza Hut Taco Bell, Long John Silver and A&W

They admit to using genetically modified ingredients in the USA because it is approved – and they admit to not using GMOs when countries don't approve it. .
<http://www.yum.com/csr/food/supply/sourcing.asp>

This is what they say on web site: Perceptions of the risks and benefits of Genetically Modified Organisms (GMOs) vary from market to market around the globe and we strictly follow all government regulations wherever we operate. In North America, GMOs are generally accepted, whereas in Europe consumers are more resistant to GMOs. Where resistance to GMOs exists, Yum! Restaurants International requires all its suppliers to provide non-GMO ingredients.

In the U.K., the Netherlands, Germany and Australia, we do not source from suppliers who use GMOs in chicken. In China, we follow Chinese regulations regarding GMO ingredients and require statements from suppliers regarding their GMO content.
